ABOUT US

The Society of Saint Vincent de Paul Vancouver Island has been providing support to those in need across Vancouver Island for over a century. The Society provides housing for seniors, transitional housing for women and children fleeing violence, housing for at- risk individuals, two thrift stores offering low-cost goods, an affordable daycare, a day program for adults with diverse abilities, the Social Concern Office (SCO) and food pantry. In the mid to north island, dedicated volunteers provide emergency support in various communities. Year over year we are seeing an increase in individuals and families seeking emergency support as the cost of living rises. A key focus for us is to provide food security and affordable housing for communities here on the island. So far this year, the SCO alone has registered nearly 500 more families in our programs compared to last year. Access to affordable housing is an area of great concern here on the island, and SSVP is working hard to address this need by expanding our affordable housing.

SSVP COMMUNITY IMPACT

HOUSING

The Society currently offers 128 housing units across multiple buildings- two seniors buildings, transitional housing for women and children fleeing violence, and our downtown apartment building for at-risk individuals. Our goal is to expand our housing units, and to achieve this goal, we are seeking support from our caring community partners .

FOOD SECURITY

Food securityis achallenge for many families. There is an ever increasing number of people accessing emergency supports. Individuals, seniors, working families and multigenerational households that can't make ends meet. We are working to address this issue by providing food security through our Choices Food Pantry, on site garden, seniors' coffee chats and mid to north island emergency support.

PROGRAMS & SERVICES

Beyond our housing and food pantry, we provide free tax preparation services to over 800 individuals annually. The Society also provides referrals to various community programs to ensure our residents, clients and those we serve are supported when they need it most. We have a longtime day program for adults with diverse abilities, thrift stores that support our programs and an affordable daycare.
